

Job Description (CTO)

Sleeplabs (www.thesleeplabs.com), a Preventive Healthcare startup building an ecosystem for sleep, is looking for a CTO. The startup is post revenue, has patents published and backed by IITK, NASSCOM, Kazan OIC Forum and recognised by Startup India.

Current Products

- 1) Website (Using Shopify currently)
- 2) Smart Pillows (Analyse Visualise and Predict health outcomes with data collected while sleeping)
- 3) Foam Based Products

Upcoming Products

- 1) Mobile App
- 2) Smart Mattress and other Furniture

Key responsibilities would include:

- 1) Own the strategy, design and resource planning for all technology related needs including architecture, programming, development tools and processes, live operations and QA
- 2) Hire, mentor and manage engineers across multiple technical teams
- 3) Lead the development pipeline, working hands on alongside the team
- 4) Collaborate closely the leadership team to create and implement product roadmaps
- 5) Establish clear goals, review and certify the quality of all technical milestones

Qualifications:

- 1) 5+ years of experience developing operating IOT and AI based products
- 2) Passion for building and managing engineering teams
- 3) Strong understanding of IOT and AI tools
- 4) Computer Science or related degrees (IITs Preferred)
- 5) Motivation for building a sleep tech startup from the ground up
- 6) Inspirational leader; not afraid of challenging the status quo
- 7) Deep thinker with an entrepreneurial mindset

Compensation

- 1) Equity with Survival Expenses

The startup is in talks with Government agencies/Tier 1 VCs across the world to raise the first round of funding.

About Taranpreet Singh (Founder, CEO)

An Entrepreneur and ex VC, previously associated with United Nations ESCAP HQ (Bangkok), Asian Development Bank (Manila) , Microsoft Ventures (India) and also lead E-commerce for Zee Laboratories ($100 Million Pharma Group)

Linkedin- <https://www.linkedin.com/in/tarankhalsa/>